

MSc Business With International Management, Northumbria University London

Abdul Wahid Khan

I am Abdul Wahid Khan, from Pakistan. I did my BS (Honors) Agriculture Food technology, PMAS Arid Agriculture University Rawalpindi Pakistan in 2019 with 3.41 CGPA, HSSC in 2015 with 56% and SSC in 2013 with 71%. I have vast experience as an Operation Manager in famous restaurant. I decided to pursue post-graduate courses at a foreign university because I felt obligated to get international experience throughout my working career in order to advance my professional abilities. For my master's programme, I have decided to enroll in MSc Business With International Management, Northumbria University London.

Offering a unique educational experience, Northumbria University London blends top-notch academic standards with a lively, urban campus located in one of the liveliest cities on earth. Its dedication to offering top-notch, career-focused education that equips students for the global labor market is its unique selling proposition. The institution has a strong focus on hands-on learning and works closely with prominent figures in the business to provide students with networking, internship, and placement opportunities. Programs at Northumbria are made to be both current and sensitive to business needs, guaranteeing that graduates have the abilities and know-how necessary to succeed in the workplace. Students from various backgrounds may succeed at the institution because of its varied and welcoming atmosphere, which also encourages innovation and creativity. The strategic location in London further enhances the learning experience, providing access to a wealth of cultural, professional, and social opportunities.

There are several benefits to pursuing an MSc in Business with International Management at Northumbria University London for individuals who want to succeed in the international business world. In order to ensure that graduates are well-prepared to navigate and prosper in a fast expanding global economy, this program offers a thorough education in international business strategies, cross-cultural management, and global market dynamics. The curriculum offers plenty of networking possibilities with experts in the sector, international organizations, and creative startups, all of which can be found in London, a key hub for global commerce. Furthermore, Northumbria University's emphasis on modern business concerns, such sustainability and digital transformation, gives graduates the most up-to-date knowledge and abilities. Overall, the MSc in Business with International Management from Northumbria University London delivers a well-rounded and immersive educational experience, paving the way for a successful and impactful career in international business. Modules are Leadership and Management in Professional Practice, Strategy, Innovation and Change, Data Analytics and Project Management for Business

Intelligence, International Business Simulation, and Advances in Responsible Global Business Management, Strategic Marketing and Analytics and more.

Students who complete Northumbria University London's MSc in Business with International Management are well-prepared for a variety of fascinating and significant positions in the international business sector. This curriculum combines cutting-edge theoretical understanding with real-world application to provide graduates the abilities they need to successfully traverse challenging global marketplaces and lead multicultural teams. Career options include positions in multinational companies, international trade organizations, and global consulting firms as an international business manager, global marketing director, business development manager, and international trade consultant. This increases their employability and prepares them for strategic jobs. Additionally, graduates can pursue careers in supply chain management, international finance, and corporate strategy, where they can leverage their expertise to drive business growth and operational excellence on a global scale. The program also lays a strong foundation for those interested in entrepreneurial ventures, enabling them to launch and manage their own international businesses. Overall, the MSc Business with International Management from Northumbria University London offers a comprehensive pathway to a successful and impactful career in the dynamic field of international business. I would like to get paid between 700,000 and 900,000 Pakistani Rupees (PKR), which is industry typical.

I've always wanted to study in the UK, and there are several strong arguments in favor of me choosing this location. Some of the most prestigious universities in the world are found in the UK. By doing this, I can be confident that I'll be taught by top-notch instructors and a part of prestigious organizations that are committed to providing high-quality education. The student population in the UK is cosmopolitan and diverse, creating a stimulating and welcoming study atmosphere. My global knowledge and comprehension will be improved by exposure to many cultures and viewpoints, positioning me to successfully traverse a linked globe. The educational system in the UK encourages critical thinking, complex topic analysis, and participation with global difficulties. My viewpoint will be widened and my ability to solve global concerns will be strengthened by this holistic approach.

Thank you for considering my application,

Sincerely,

